Our next issue: March 19

Until further notice, the Community News will appear as a print publication every four weeks instead of every two weeks.

Bi-weekly issues of the Community News will continue to be prepared by the DLIFLC Public Affairs Office staff and will continue to be available online to readers who visit the DLIFLC website (www.dli.army.mil) and click on the Community News link.

The next issue of the Community News is due on March 19. A printed edition will be distributed. The issue will also be posted on the DLIFLC website.

The cutback on printed copies is an effort by the DLIFLC command to lower expenditure on Community News production in a time of budget constraints.

The DLIFLC command and the Community News staff at the DLIFLC Public Affairs Office regret any inconveniences the cutback will impose upon Community News readers, contributors and participants in the Community News classified ad marketplace.

Boy Scout Troop 135 wants members

Boy Scout Troop 135 is recruiting new scouts.

Anyone at age 10 1/2 years through 17 years may join.

Charter fees are $12, which includes a one-year subscription to Boy's Life magazine (a $10.20 value).

Troop 135 is scheduled to attend Camp Pico Blanco this summer during the week of July 25-31.

Qualified applicants who live in Seaside, Ord Military Community or in any of the military housing areas may join Troop 135. Please call the Troop 135 scoutmaster at 393-9731 or e-mail: troop135ordmilcom@yahoo.com.

Volunteers wanted for youth golf program

The Salvation Army is looking for people who love golf and like kids to help with its Junior Golf Program.

The program uses golf to teach life skills to kids at ages 7 through 17 while providing them an enjoyable outdoor activity. Participants meet at Bayonet-Black Hawk Golf Course Driving Range on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month from 1:45 to 4 p.m.

To participate or to obtain more information, call Kristen Stanwick at the Salvation Army Youth Center at 899-1335 any weekday afternoon.

PLACES ON THE PRESIDIO: The Sloat Monument. A granite eagle sculpted by Arthur Putnam sits atop a stone pedestal sculpted by Earl Cummings. The front of the pedestal bears the likeness of Commodore John Drake Sloat, USN, commander of the Navy's Pacific Squadron, who ordered the raising of the U.S. flag at Monterey's Custom House on July 7, 1846, soon after the outbreak of war with Mexico. Sloat's decisive action led to U.S. acquisition of California and territory in present-day Nevada, Arizona, Colorado and Wyoming. The Presidio's Sloat Monument was dedicated in 1910. Funds for the monument's construction came from the federal government, the California state government and the Masonic Order of California.

SJA offers help preparing tax returns

The 2004 tax season is here. To assist service members with their 2003 tax returns, the Office of the Staff Judge Advocate's Tax Center will conduct the DLIFLC and POM Tax Assistance Program for active duty service members and their families. The Tax Assistance Program will again include electronic filing of federal and state returns.

To assist members at their units, each company size unit or detachment designated one or more persons to act as Unit Tax Advisors (UTAs) during the tax season. The UTAs received a challenging two-week course of instruction on federal and state tax preparation. Service members will first be directed to contact their UTA for tax assistance. When the problem is too complex for the UTA, the UTA will consult with the Tax Center for help.

The names of those responsible during the tax season for assisting members of their respective units in completing their tax returns are listed on page 9.

The Schoolyard News

Your School Liaison Service provides school related information to local military families with school age children. For any information on the local schools, scholarship database, schools at your new duty station, and volunteer opportunities call the School Liaison Office 242-6904 or email cynthia.rothstein@monterey.army.mil.

Our local schools need volunteers more than ever due to the cut in funds that schools receive from the state. Any family member, active duty, or retiree that can offer the local schools their time and skills are encouraged to call the School Liaison Office.

Here are some interesting web sites for military families:

- Military Child Education Coalition is an educational, non-profit, tax-exempt organization that focuses on issues that effect school age military children. Check out their web site: <http://www.militarychild.org>.

- A new web site created to help service members, spouses and children navigate the challenges associated with military moves and deployments is sponsored by the Defense Department: www.militarystudent.org.

DTS Is coming to the Defense Language Institute and Presidio of Monterey

Welcome to the New, Improved Business Travel Process

The New Defense Travel System (DTS) Now Arriving at the Defense Language Institute and Presidio of Monterey

The Defense Language Institute and Presidio of Monterey will soon join other Department of Defense organizations that are already using the new Defense Travel System (DTS). First envisioned in the mid-1990s, DTS began pilot site fielding in 2001. By October 2003, DTS had deployed at 27 pilot sites and 232 other sites across DoD, and was already supporting thousands of military and civilian personnel. On October 20, 2003 a Milestone C acquisition decision made DTS the official DoD temporary duty (TDY/TAD) travel systems and approved fielding of the system to the entire Defense Department. In the words of the DTS Program Director Colonel Brandy Johnson, "Within the next two years we will deploy DTS to the most high-volume travel sites within DoD. It will take time to deploy DTS to all of the DOD, but the process is well underway."

Colonel Alan Tomson, the DTS Executive Director for Transformation, describes DTS as "a state-of-the-art, 21st century e-commerce system." He explains, "DTS will mean online TDY (temporary duty) travel for virtually every person in the Department of Defense, both civilian and military. This is a quality of life issue for our people. They deserve DTS."

Among the benefits DTS brings to travelers, authorizing officials, managers and commanders, those most touted include: fast, electronic reimbursement of travel expenses; approvals and certifications tied directly to mission; a significant reduction in time spent administering travel; reduced paperwork; and the automated payment of government charge cards.

Fast, electronic reimbursement of travel expenses. This is a priority item. As Colonel Tomson puts it, "Why should our travelers be financing our operations? That's what happens, in effect, if we don't reimburse them promptly." Thanks to DTS, DoD will now be able to reimburse its business travelers quickly and electronically.

Worksite approvals and certifications. DTS places approval of travel arrangements and certification of travel vouchers at the traveler's worksite instead of at a servicing finance location. This places the authority to make travel decisions with the leaders and managers responsible for completing the mission.

Significant reduction in the time spent administering travel. Reports to Congress based on field-testing of DTS indicate that on average the time spent administering travel is cut to one-third of what it had been before DTS. And saving time also means saving money.

Reduced paperwork. As DoD's single end-to-end electronic solution for Defense business travel, DTS is, in fact, online travel. DTS provides electronic connectivity between the traveler, the authorizing official, the service/agency accounting and disbursing systems, the local comptroller's budget, the commercial travel service provider, the commercial bank card service and the electronic archive of travel-related documents. This electronic connectivity and archival process eliminates the reams of paperwork required previously for business travel.

Automated payment of government charge cards. This attribute makes DTS "a knight in shining armor" for many travelers and for military Services and Defense agencies. It takes much of the after-the-fact bill paying responsibility away from the traveler, and will work to reduce those delinquencies that are caused by having the extra delay in the payment/repayment chain. Once a voucher is approved for payment, reimbursement for expenses charged to the traveler's government charge card is made electronically directly to the traveler's government charge card account.

Where else is DTS being fielded? See the listings on the next page.

Current plans call for DTS to be deployed to over 100 locations across the Department of Defense by the end of Fiscal Year 2004. DTS will be deployed to more than 11,000 DoD locations by the middle of the decade, at which point DTS will support 90% of all DoD business travel.

NPS Hosts 'Rampart Winds' Concert

The Naval Postgraduate School will host the 'Rampart Winds' woodwind quintet of the United States Air Force Band of the Rockies.

World class performers and world class repertoire make this quintet an entertaining example of Air Force excellence. The Rampart Winds repertoire includes new compositions, quintet standards and ingenious arrangements of classical works.

This highly-polished ensemble is a "first call" for diplomatic and military protocol support events throughout the country. Among music professionals, Rampart Winds' artistry is highly regarded. In recent years, Rampart Winds was featured at the International Double Reed Society Convention, National Public Radio and the Public Broadcasting System.

Parking and seats are limited, so please arrive early. Valid photo identification is required at the gate, but admission is free.

For more information about The Rampart Winds and the United States Air Force Band of the Rockies, visit their website at www.usafacademyband.com.

About the Naval Postgraduate School

The mission of the Naval Postgraduate School is to enhance United States national security through graduate, executive and professional education programs focusing on the unique needs of military leaders, with research and advanced studies directed towards the needs of the Navy and Department of Defense. Chapman University offers courses specifically for DLI Students

Registration is ongoing for the spring term (Mar 15 – May 16) for the Monterey extension for Chapman University located on Pacific Street downtown. Chapman U is offering courses that meet the DLI Associate degree general education course requirements including Physical Science with a lab, Statistics and Western Civilization. Tuition assistance covers the complete course costs. For class schedules and registration forms, contact your Education Center or Chapman at mon@chapman.edu (831) 373-0945

MPC late spring term (27 March – 1 June) registration on-going

The Monterey Peninsula College late spring cycle (27 March – 1 June) still has space in select classes including “living room” courses, which have an independent study format. Many of these courses are of particular interest to service members in the Foreign Language Associate Degree program. Check with MPC at 242-4002/7 or your Education Center for course availability.

Coastline Community College Spring II Registration Ongoing

Coastline Community College is one of the few California Community Colleges offering short 8-week on-line courses. Check the web site at <http://mil.ccc.cccd.edu> for the range of general education courses, including biology and geology lab courses, which will meet the DLI AA requirements. Additional information is also available at your Education Center. Registration extends to March 26, 2004 for Term II classes which span from April 5–May 30.

Internet workstations at POM Education Center

The Education Center has 10 workstations available for use by service members to work on college course work, DLI studies, research and the like. The Education Center is open during students’ lunch hour and after class.

West Point Admissions Briefing

The West Point Admissions Officer will brief soldiers interested in attending the Academy or Preparatory School on 4 May 04 at 1700 hours at the Education Center.

Loan Repayment Program (LRP)– Tax Reminder

It is tax time. Payments authorized under the Army LRP are taxable in the year they are made. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) Indianapolis should provide a separate statement of amount paid (W-2) to the soldier at the end of the tax year. If the soldier does not receive their W-2, they must contact (DFAS) to obtain a copy of the W-2. DFAS requires the service member to provide their SSN, Roster Number (obtained through Education Center channels) and specify they are requesting a W-2 for payments authorized under the LRP. DFAS tax hotline: DSN 699-2800 or COM (317) 510-2800.

Tuition Assistance Top-Up

The active duty Montgomery GI Bill education program permits the VA to pay a Tuition Assistance Top-up benefit. The amount of the benefit can be equal to the difference between the total cost of a college course and the amount of Tuition Assistance that is paid by the military for the course. To be eligible for the Top-up benefit, the service member must be approved for federal Tuition Assistance by a military service and be eligible for MGIB-Active Duty benefits. To be eligible for MGIB benefits, the person must be an MGIB - Active Duty participant and must have served at least 2 full years on Active Duty.

Military taxpayers: know the provisions of the Military Family Tax Relief Act

The Military Family Tax Relief Act was signed into law by the president on Nov. 11, 2003, and contains several tax benefits for military members.

Death Gratuity: The death gratuity paid to a survivor of a member of the Armed Forces who died after September 10, 2001 increased to $12,000 and is all nontaxable. Previously, the death gratuity was $6,000 and only $3,000 was nontaxable. You may be able to claim a refund if you paid tax on a death gratuity you received because of a death that occurred after September 10, 2001.

Base Realignment: A military base realignment and closure benefit generally is nontaxable if paid to you after Nov. 10, 2003.

Sale of a home: If you have been a member of the uniformed services, you now may be able to exclude from income a gain from selling your main home, even if you did not live in it for the required two years during the five-year period ending on the date of sale. You can choose to have the five-year period for ownership and use suspended during any period you or your spouse serves on qualified official extended duty more than 50 miles from your residence. This change applies to any sale of a main home after May 6, 1997, so you may be able to claim a refund if you paid tax on a gain from a sale after that date. Generally, you must file a claim for credit or refund within three years from the date you filed your original return or within two years from the date you paid the tax, whichever is later. However, the deadline to file a claim based on this rule for 1997, 1998, 1999, or 2000 has been extended to November 10, 2004. More information on selling your home can be found in IRS Pub 523, Selling Your Home.

Armed Forces Reservists: Beginning in 2003, if you are a member of a reserve component of the armed forces, you may be able to deduct some of your reserve-related travel costs as an adjustment to gross income rather than as an itemized deduction. More information can be found in Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment, Gift and Car Expenses, at "Armed Forces Reservists Traveling More than 100 Miles from Home" in Chapter 6.

Contingency Operations – This Act extended the combat zone filing extensions (not combat tax exclusion) to members of the Armed Forces serving in contingency operations. Members serving in combat zones, areas in direct support of a combat zone or in contingency operations are entitled to an extension of time for filing and paying their federal income tax equal to 180 days after they depart the combat zone or contingency operation plus the number of days served in the combat zone or contingency operation area between Jan. 1 and April 15.

Qualified tuition programs/Coverdell Education Savings Account: The 10% tax on a qualified tuition program or Coverdell ESA distribution does not apply to attendees of the five military academies, to the extent the distribution does not exceed the costs of advanced education at the academy Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Higher Education, has more information on this issue.

Tax benefits granted for service in combat zones

Combat zone tax benefits: military members serving in a combat zone may exclude pay for income tax and may extend the period for filing and paying income tax in addition to other benefits. In some instances these benefits are available to members serving outside the combat zone.

Combat zones in 2004:

Afghanistan area - Executive Order No. 13239 designated Afghanistan (and airspace above) beginning September 19, 2001.

Kosovo area - Executive Order (EO) No. 13119 and Public Law 106-21 designated these locations (including air space above) as a combat zone and a qualified hazardous duty area (QHDA) beginning March 24, 1999: Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (Serbia/Montenegro); Albania; The Adriatic Sea; & The Ionian Sea—north of the 39th parallel (including all of airspace in connection with Kosovo operation.) Also see Public Law 104-117 Effective 21 November 1995, QHDA: Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, or Macedonia so long as service members are entitled to receive imminent danger/hostile fire pay under 37 U.S.C. § 310 for service in that location.

Persian Gulf area – EO No. 12744 designated these locations (and airspace above) as a combat zone beginning January 17, 1991: The Persian Gulf; The Red Sea; The Gulf of Oman; The part of the Arabian Sea that is north of 10 degrees north latitude and west of 68 degrees east longitude; The Gulf of Aden; and The total land areas of Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Oman, Bahrain, Qatar, and the United Arab Emirates.

Proposed legislation would affect military in California

The California legislature is considering new legislation that will reduce taxes for military personnel who are stationed in California but who are not residents of the state.

The Franchise Tax Board (FTB) anticipates the passage of this legislation and advises impacted taxpayers to delay filing their returns until close to the April 15 deadline. The FTB will publish instructions advising taxpayers about the new rules once state legislation is passed.

Senate Bill 615 (see <http://www.leginfo.ca.gov/>) was recently amended to conform to the tax changes in the recently passed federal Servicemembers' Civil Relief Act. The act prohibits the Franchise Tax Board from using the "California method," which included military income in computing state taxes for a non-resident service member's total income.

A non-resident military taxpayer who earns California-source non-military income, from a part-time job for example, will mostly likely pay a lower state tax under this new law. It will also reduce the complexity of computing state income taxes by eliminating the total income-from-all-sources calculation. A non-resident service member who has a non-military spouse earning income in California will likely benefit.

"Our men and women in uniform put their lives on the line for us every day," said State Controller and FTB Chair Steve Westly. "This legislation means lower taxes and less complexity for military personnel who live out-of-state but are stationed in California."

Because the State's Constitution prohibits California from automatically adopting federal laws, the California Legislature must enact a state law that conforms to the federal changes.

The Federal Act is largely a restatement and modernization of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940. Taxpayers are encouraged to Check FTB's website for the status of the legislation. The FTB will post more information on its website at <http://www.ftb.ca.gov> as details become available.

IRS website has page for military members

The IRS has created a new section on its website containing important information to help ensure members of the U.S. Armed Forces serving in a combat zone get all of the tax benefits available to them. The new information is available on the IRS website at Tax Information for Members of the U.S. Military <<http://www.irs.gov/newsroom/article/0,,id=97273,00.html>>. The new section includes:

- Questions and answers on exclusions, extensions and other tax benefits available to members of the Armed Forces serving in a combat zone.

- IRS Publication 3, Armed Forces' Tax Guide, which covers the special tax situations of active members of the U.S. Armed Forces

- Several recent news releases and notices discussing benefits for service members

- A special e-mail address for members of the U.S. Armed Forces, their spouses, authorized agents or representatives, which can be used to notify the IRS about someone servicing in a combat zone. Taxpayers qualifying for such combat zone relief may also notify the IRS directly of their status through a special e-mail address: <<mailto:combat@irs.gov>>combatzone@irs.gov <<mailto:combatzone@irs.gov>>. They should provide name, stateside address, date of birth and date of deployment to the combat zone. They should not include any social security numbers in an e-mail.

TRICARE adjusts maternity NAS requirements

On Dec. 28, 2003, the non-availability statement (NAS) requirement for maternity care was eliminated for TRICARE beneficiaries who do not have other health insurance (OHI) and live in the vicinity of a military treatment facility, but use the TRICARE Standard or Extra options. An NAS is certification issued from a Military Treatment Facility (MTF) that a specific medical service is not available at the time care is needed. Women who require prenatal care on or after Dec. 28, 2003, will not be required to obtain an NAS as long as their first prenatal visit is on or after this date. Up until Dec. 28, 2003, if an MTF could not provide needed maternity care, it issued an NAS to allow a patient to receive care from a civilian source.

This change affects eligible TRICARE beneficiaries who do not have OHI; are not enrolled in Prime; reside within 40 miles of an MTF (catchment area) anywhere in the world; and obtain maternity care outside of the MTF. Women, who require prenatal care on or after Dec. 28, 2003, will not be required to obtain the NAS, as long as their first prenatal visit is on or after this date. TRICARE Prime members will still require a referral from their PCM for their maternity care. Women who begin prenatal care before Dec. 28, 2003, will still be required to obtain an NAS that will cover all maternity care associated with the pregnancy, delivery and care for six weeks after delivery.

If an NAS is not obtained for prenatal visits through Dec. 27, 2003, TRICARE will not cover any portion of the care received during the pregnancy, including care related to delivery. For example, if a woman's first prenatal visit after confirmation of the pregnancy occurs on Dec. 27, 2003, she must obtain the NAS for that visit or she will be responsible for all expenses related to her pregnancy even though she may not deliver until the following summer.

Patients who have other health insurance that pays before TRICARE do not need an NAS. Additionally, family members of a National Guard or Reserve member who is called to active duty and who qualify for the TRICARE Reserve Family Demonstration Project do not need an NAS.

Beneficiaries should check with their local Health Benefits Advisor, Beneficiary Counseling and Assistance Coordinator, or TRICARE Service Center to verify if they are in a catchment area. If it is necessary to receive care from a civilian hospital or doctor during pregnancy, finding a provider who participates in the TRICARE network or who is an authorized provider is most cost-effective. Providers can be located through www.hnfs.net or by calling your local TRICARE Service Center.

For more information, contact your local TRICARE Service Center or visit the TMA website at <http://tricare.osd.mil/factsheets>.

Presidio's Veterinary Facility extends hours

The Presidio of Monterey Veterinary Treatment Facility, located on Parker Flats Cutoff in Ord Military Community, is now offering more appointments to service the active duty, retiree, Reserve, and National Guard components on active duty status.

The facility is now open Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1:30 to 3 p.m. for over-the-counter sales. Vaccinations and minor sick call appointments are available at various times throughout the month based upon personnel availability. Call 242-7718 for more information and to make an appointment.

Services provided include heartworm testing and preventative, feline leukemia/ feline AIDS testing, stool examination, microchip ID, immunizations, health certificates for travel and child development centers, minor sick calls and over-the-counter product sales.

This clinic staff recommends that cats and kittens be vaccinated against feline distemper, calici virus, rinotracheitis and chlamydia at the ages of eight weeks, 12 weeks and 16 weeks. Feline leukemia vaccination is available upon request. Boosters are required to increase your pets' resistance.

Dogs and puppies should be vaccinated against canine distemper, hepatitis, parainfluenza, leptospirosis, parvo and corona virus at eight weeks, 12 weeks and 16 weeks of age. Boosters are required to increase your pet's resistance. Bordatella (kennel cough) vaccine is available upon request.

Rabies vaccination is required by the state of California. The initial vaccine is should be done at 16 weeks of age and boosted at one year of age. California law requires that boosters be administered every three years.

Stool specimens are accepted Monday through Thursday. Examination will ensure that your pet does not have intestinal parasites, particularly hookworms and roundworms, that can be passed to your family.

Heartworm tests are done by appointment only. Mosquitoes pass heartworm among infected dogs. Insure your dogs' health by checking regularly for heartworm and keeping your pet on heartworm preventative. A negative heartworm test (either performed at the facility or shown in a record) is mandatory before heartworm prevention can be issued. No heartworm test is required if your dog is less than one year of age.

Feline leukemia/ FIV testing is available. This test is highly recommended for cats whose history is unknown and annually for cats that are solely outdoor or indoor-outdoor Pets are part of our families and need their health maintained for years of happy living. Call the facility to book an appointment at 242-7718.

Army/Armed Forces Action Plan (AFAP) Focus Group

AFAP Focus Group (2nd Quarter)

Date: Tuesday, March 9, 2004

Time: 8:15 a.m. – 12 noon (registration from 8 to 8:15 a.m.)

Where: Weckerling Center, Presidio of Monterey

For registration information call Army Community Service at 242-7652 or e-mail
Kevin.moore@monterey.army.mil

Army Community Service will host its second Quarterly Armed Forces Action Plan Focus Group on Tuesday, March 9, 2004. The purpose of the Focus Group is to direct actions to improve family programs and benefits and entitlements for the total military family, which includes all branches, all ranks, married and single, spouses, teens, retirees and Department of Defense civilians. Limited free child care is provided.

You are invited to participate in the Focus Group as a delegate and/or by submitting any local or global concerns affecting military personnel and programs. Concerns that relate to the Presidio of Monterey will be resolved locally. Issues that require the attention of higher headquarters will be developed and forwarded to the Department of the Army headquarters to be addressed at the next DA level symposium.

Make a difference. Get involved today.

Return this form to Army Community Service Center, Ord Military Community, or call 242-7660.

Yes, I am interested in being a delegate to the AFAP Quarterly Focus Group on March 9, 2004, (from 8:15 a.m. to 12 noon) at Weckerling Center, Presidio of Monterey.
